

Overview:

To identify internal controls over the teleworking and remote access security process.

Objectives:

- Working from client sites
- Telework Responsibilities
- Looking ahead post-pandemic
- How work has evolved into new enterprise risks

Date and Time:

Tuesday, November 2, 2021, 10:00 am – 11:00 am

Who Will Benefit:

Auditors, Accountants, Internal Controls Officers, and Tax Professionals.

CPE Logistics

CPE Credit: One (1) hour

Field of Study: Auditing

Materials: Will be provided on OSC website

Instructional delivery method: Group internet based

Prerequisites: None

Advance Preparation: None

Level: Basic

Webinar Developer: NCSU Poole College of Management

Webinar Sponsor: NC Office of the State Controller

NOTE: There will be NO site administrator or group registrations for this webinar. During the webinar, participants are required to be logged on individually for no less than 50 minutes of the webinar and respond to three polling questions to receive CPE credit. Your time will be tracked to accurately award one (1) hour of CPE credit.

IMPORTANT: There will be NO partial credit given. If you watch this as a group, there will be NO CPE credit awarded.

Speaker:

Al Chen - NCSU Poole College of Management

A Professor of Accounting at Poole College of Management, NCSU Raleigh, NC. Research interests include ERM, internal audit, sustainability performance measurement, and technology automation. He has published in both accounting research and professional journals.